

KAREN'S TREND TIP: Marquee letters. Is it just me or do you see marquees everywhere? This home trend started not long ago and just took off!

You once had to buy these letters at special stores (junk yards!) or have them custom-made. Now, you can find them everywhere – online marketplaces to local craft stores. I've even seen them on a home shopping channel! The best part now is that they're more affordable, more accessible and more personalized!

I love marquee letters because you can customize your home and décor with whatever you want. Most people stick to the big ones: love, joy, family and eat. Recently, though, I discovered how easy it was to just go to many neighborhood craft stores and online sites and spell out what makes you happy. If it's "shoes" or "bacon" or "dance", the sky's the limit!
